mey Searles.

A party was in progress one night at New Boston, when Brissette joined it. Drinking was going on, and late in the afternoon Brissette went upstairs into an apartment where two girls were preparing to retire for the night. They objected to his presence, and the male members of the house ejected him forcibly. He went to his home, and, procuring a revolver, returned to the Polish house and commendered firing. The result was that one man was killed and another was wounded. The latter has fully recovered. Attorney Charles L. Torrey will continuing the case until the March term of court. ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Arthur Payette, 21, Arrested for Theft, Tried to Hang Himself in His Cell.

While Emil Desauliners was asleep in the armory on the floor Monday afternoon about 4 o'clock, Arthur Payette, aged 21, abstracted from his pocket a wallet containing $6.75. Chief of Police E. H. Richmond was notified of the theft, and found the empty waller in the city and found the year. wallet in the city yard near the Van-derman Manufacturing company's plant, on Valley street, in the evening. Tuesday morning at 9.15 o'clock Payette was arrested by Chief Richmond and locked up on the charge of theft from the person. Some time during mid-forencon, Ernest Sark, an Indian who appeared in police court for intoxication Tuesday morning, who occupied a nearby cell, was surprised to hear Payette say: "I am going to hang tist church. myself and have got everything all ready." The Indian told him that he was a fool and ought not to do anything like that. Some other remarks were exchanged between the two and licenses issued to hunters at the own clerk's office this season to date. after a time Payette said "Good-bye." and repeated it a number of times until the last time it sounded like a mere gurgle. The Indian rapped upon his cell door three times, and at the last time Chief Richmond hearing and supposing that he was calling for water, entered the cell room, to hear the Indian exclaim "That fellow in there has hung himself."

The chief reaching into the cell bedian exclaim 'That fellow in there has hung himself.'

The chief, reaching into the cell between the bars pulled Payette down to the floor. He then opened the door and pulled the necktie away from Payette's throat and loosened his clothing, and opened the windows to give him air. Dr. C. E. Simonds was called by telephone and hurried to police headquarters. The physician worked over Payette for a long time and was obliged to give him oxygen. The rapping of the Indian, Ernest Sark, was at 11.55, and had Chief Richmond not been at his desk Payette would have succeeded. The deed was attempted with a leather belt buckled around the top of the cell door and a brown and white necktie tied to the belt and around his neck. He had evidently jumped off the bench, straining his neck pretty thoroughly. He was a native of Ireland, born in Limerick, and came to this country when young.
